Canada's Great Kitchen Party

Chef Khalid Farchoukh triumphed by winning gold at Canada's Great Kitchen Party Ottawa, the Ottawa-Gatineau regional culinary competition held Thursday September 21st at the Fairmont Château Laurier. The Great Kitchen Party in Ottawa was the first to be held among the 10 competing cities, from St John's, NL to Vancouver, BC whose regional competitions also took place in the fall. Each region's gold medal winning chef will compete in the Canadian Culinary Championship to be held in Ottawa, February 2-3, 2024.

At the time of his win, Chef Farchoukh was chef de cuisine at Carben Food+Drink but since that restaurant is now closed, he is no longer eligible to compete in the national championship. Taking his place will be Chef Raghav Chaudhary of Aiana, who finished second in the Ottawa event by an extremely narrow margin. Winning the bronze medal was Chef Kristine Hartling of Oz Kafe.
